

An aerial photograph of a resort complex situated on the edge of a large, dark green lake. The resort features a long, white, multi-story building with a dark roof, surrounded by lush green lawns and trees. A prominent red water slide winds its way down a grassy slope towards the water. Several wooden docks extend into the lake, with numerous small boats moored at them. The background is filled with a dense forest of tall trees, some showing early autumn colors. The overall scene is bright and scenic.
